EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS

Led by the Rev. Fay B. Mills
Associates.

Arrangements have been made with Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, the Princeton orator, and Mr. J. P. Mills, one of the foremost evangelistic singers in America; to begin a meeting in this city, March 18th. These men have been, and are still, associated with Rev. B. Fay Mills. They come to the city on the invitation of Rev. A. J. Arrick, who is a personal friend of Mr. Biederwolf, and the First Presbyterian Church. The men desire and the officers of the church believe that there will be more accomplished for the cause of Christ in the community to make it a union meeting and have invited all the other churches to unite with them in the meeting, the Presbyterian church paying the expense of bringing the men here. Word has not yet been received as to the action of the other churches, but it is hoped that all may join to awaken an interest in religious matters. Judging from the New Haven papers, Rev. Biederwolf is a powerful man. We clip the following:

"The most brilliant sermon of the revival so far was preached last night at the Church of the Redeemer by that Princeton athlete, the Rev. Mr. Biederwolf. Evangelist Mills announced last Sunday in the Grand Opera House that Mr. Biederwolf was a man of powerful physique, powerful intellect, powerful oratory and powerful delivery, that he is one of the brightest and ablest all-around trained men that ever graduated at Princeton. But, in spite of this commendation, New Haveners hardly dared to hope for anything better than a New Jersey swamper—except a fire or a will-to-the-wisp.

"However, even though Mr. Biederwolf does come from the swamps and the university standing upon stilts therein, he demonstrated last night that Evangelist Mills had uttered no flattery. The Princeton man is of powerful build, shows in his makeup and movements the training of an athlete; has a rugged face, broad brow and flashing eyes; his pulpit oratory is mighty and brilliant, and his delivery is vigorous with dramatic power."

Death of Walter Scott.

J. Walter Scott died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Scott, on West Main street on Wednesday morning, February 5, at 9:40 o'clock, aged 22 years.

Nearly two weeks before, he was stricken with paralysis and from the time he was taken down till the end came, it was only too apparent to the loving ones, who were ministering to him, that the brave struggle he was making was a hopeless one. Neither loving care nor medical skill could avail to save him.

Walter Scott was one of the best and most promising young men in our community. He enjoyed, and what is better deserved, the respect of all who knew him. Young and old alike loved him for the ready willingness to sacrifice his own convenience for the comfort and pleasure of others, and respected him for the rugged, though unobtrusive, regard for honesty and true Christian manliness that marked his every-day walk. His untimely death caused deep sorrow among the wide circle of his acquaintance, and many a tear was dropped in sorrow for his going. The funeral service was held in the Christian Church in this city on Thursday afternoon, Rev. H. B. Robinson, of Lexington, conducting it. We have never seen at any such service so large a number of young people as came out to testify by their presence their regard and respect for their friend. It is but natural that the loss of so true a son and brother should be most keenly felt by the family; but if sympathy could avail in any way to alleviate their sorrow, the knowledge of how wide spread and sincere that sympathy is in this community, would surely help them bear their loss the more patiently.

The names of the successful bidders for the new loan, were made public at the Treasury Saturday. The last revision reduces the amount awarded J. P. Morgan and his associates to $33,179,250 at 110.6877. Thus it will be seen the syndicate gets less than one-third of the entire loan. Mrs. E. J. Held of this place was one of the successful bidders getting $1,100 at from 111. to 113.

RIFLE IN HAND.

He Stood Between Them and the Door and Killed Three.

Canon City, Colo., Feb. 7.—Benjamin Radcliff, the slayer of the entire School Board of Jefferson District, Park county, was hanged at the penitentiary at night at 8:05 o'clock.

Prompted by a desire for revenge for what he considered grievous wrongs, Radcliff deliberately shot down in the schoolhouse at Jefferson, Park county, the three members of the School Board, Samuel Taylor, Lincoln F. McCurdy and George D. Wyatt. The cause of the trouble was the circulation of reports of alleged criminal intimacy between Radcliff and his motherless daughter, a girl of 18.

THE "JURY" DISAGREED.

Amusing Illustration of the Uncertainty of Jury Trials.

A tunny trial took place at Stanton, Powell county, the other day. A mountaineer was arrested on a warrant charging him with a misdemeanor, and the case came up in Judge Blackburn's court, which is the Police Court of the town.

The defendant's attorney demanded a jury and forthwith six jurymen were summoned to try the case. Five of them were objected to by the attorneys, and only one was accepted, a man named Killen. After some parleying the attorney on both sides agreed that the case should be tried by the one juror. The testimony was introduced, the Judge gave his instructions to the "jury," and the case was argued at length by the attorneys on both sides. At the conclusion of the arguments the "jury" was told to retire and consider the case. The lone juror took the papers, and with a solemn and dignified mien retired to the jury room.

After staying out for over half an hour the "jury" returned to the court room and handed the Judge a paper upon which was written:

"We, the jury, are unable to agree upon a verdict."

Wm. KILLEN, Foreman."

This is probably the only case on record where a jury consisting of only one man tried a case, and the grim humor of the thing is a keen satire upon the frequent inability of a contrary jury to reach a verdict.—Richmond Climax.

The Fort Thomas Murder.

The mystery that for several days has been hovering around the headless trunk of the young woman so foully murdered at Fort Thomas, near Newport, Ky., on Feb. 14, has been partially cleared up. The body has been identified as that of Tess Bryan, daughter of a farmer living near Greencastle Ind. The men who are responsible for her brutal murder are Scott Jackson and Alonzo Walling, two students of the Cincinnati Dental College. The girl had been betrayed by Jackson and had come to Cincinnati at his instance to hide her shame. The two men are trying, the one to throw the responsibility for the murder on the other. Many links in the chain of evidence which is tightening around the miscreants have been found but as yet neither has made a full confession.

It has not yet been ascertained whether the girl was killed in Cincinnati and her body brought over to Kentucky or whether the murder was committed where the body was found. A young man, William Wood, of Greencastle, son of the presiding Elder of the M. E. Church of that district is also implicated in the matter and has been arrested charged with being a party to procuring an abortion. Jackson and Walling are in jail in Cincinnati and will not be brought to Kentucky till it is established where the murder was done. The head of the unfortunate has not yet been found, and though Jackson and Walling have been subjected to the most rigid examination by the police neither have been made to say where the head was concealed after it was taken from the body.

SUCCESSFUL

Bidders For the New Government

Bonds.

About One-Third of the Issue Will Go to the Morgan Syndicate.

Washington, February 7.—Late this afternoon the Treasury officials completed the computation of bids offered for the new bond issue, from which it appears that the amount of bids above that of J. P. Morgan and his associates, is $110,687,750, and that the amount which will be awarded to the syndicate, therefore, will be $33,213,360, approximately one-third of the whole issue. The number of successful bidders is 781.

In arriving at this conclusion, the officials have thrown out a very few bids, obviously fictitious, and a larger number which were irregular in important particulars. Some of those bore no signature and others did not contain the amount intended to be bid for, while still others omitted the rate.

The last, however, are not supposed to aggregate any considerable sum. The fact that two-thirds of the entire issue are found to have been at rates ranging above $110.6877 is something of a surprise to all who heard the bids announced, but there is no question of the accuracy of the statement, as all of the bids have been again gone over and all errors made in the hurry of the day of the opening have been corrected.

LUXURY

Enjoyed by the Venezuelan Commission Which Already Needs More Money.

Washington, February 7.—Before squarely started in its work, the list is thrown out that the Venezuelan Commission wants more money. The Commission has to date credit $100,000 and has held three meetings. But whoever manages the fund seems to be prodigal in expenditures. The quarters of the Commission are furnished in luxurious style, with polished oak desks, book cases and dressing cases, and the numerous lounges, sofas and chairs are richly upholstered in leather. The Secretary and each member of the Commission has a separate room, and each room is furnished with every comfort, including a solid silver pitcher and saucer. There is a large force of assistants, including stenographers, translators, clerks, typewriters and messengers, and the allowances for salaries and expenses are said to be extremely liberal. A sumptuous luncheon was served to the Commission during the progress of today's session. Complaint has been already made against the alleged insufficiency of the appropriation of $100,000. It is proposed to send one or two of the members to Europe and Venezuela and to send the Secretary on a special mission to Madrid and The Hague to inspect the official archives relating to the early history of the Spanish and Dutch settlements in South America, but this programme will probably have to be abandoned unless the Commission is provided with more money. Its expenses have already been very heavy, and it is said that the salary allowances will soon exhaust the balance of the available appropriation.

WOMEN CHEERED

When Royster Was Acquitted After Killing His Daughter's Betrayer.

Boone, Iowa, February 7.—Last month Stanhope Royster shot and killed Barker McFarland for betraying Royster's daughter. A week later the girl killed herself. In Omaha To-day Royster was acquitted of the murder after a week's trial. The jury was out but five minutes. When the verdict was announced men and women arose to their feet and cheered at the top of their voices.

Successful Experiment With the New Cathode Photography

Montreal, Feb. 8.—The experiments with cathode photography applied to surgery are being carried on at McGill University with great success. This morning Prof. Cox, experimented on a patient of Dr. Killpatrick, Tolson Canning, who had, been shot in the left leg about Christmas. The bullet could not be located and the man suffered intense pain. The wound had closed up. The leg was photographed and though it took forty-five minutes, the bullet was found.

OUTBREAK

Imminent in Korea Because the King Ordered Queues Out of Style.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 7.—The Western Gazette, from Hongkong and Yokohama today, brought the following advice:

Of the many changes introduced in quick succession in Korea, the recent adoption of the Western method of hair dressing has attracted most attention. The King recently issued a proclamation urging the sacrifices of the queues and set the example by having his own hair cut, the Prince Royal following suit. The proclamation created consternation in both official and private circles. The Minister of Education resigned and retired to his country home when his protests at the luncheon were disregarded. Many lesser Government officials also resigned rather than sacrifice their locks.

The proclamation excited alarm among the people at large, but at each of the four gates of the capital Constables are posted to await the coming of country people to compel them to submit to the barbers, who are in waiting for their hair. Western hats and coats are generally adopted by those who lead their queues. In several districts the Koreans have broken out into actual rebellion at the proclamation. Many local Governors have resigned their posts, owing to their unwillingness to cut off their queues. Several hundred people have fled to the mountains, and as many more are under arms, preparing to attack the Korean troops.

Wants to Quit.

On Saturday Senator Elmore introduced a joint resolution looking to an early adjournment of the legislature. In substance the resolution is as follows:

Be it resolved by the General Assembly, That as there is no money in the Treasury to defray the current expenses of the Legislature; and, as it is doing no business, and there is no possible chance to elect a Senate, that the General Assembly adjourn "sine die" on February 17, 1896.

Just Kept Stealing Them.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 8.—M. T. Henry (colored) was arrested here this afternoon on charges of house breaking. The story is that at Frankfort he broke into a blacksmith shop and stole a lot of tools, took them Midway, sold them to another blacksmith, broke into his shop, stole the tools, took them to Spring Station and sold them to J. M. Bramlett, broke into his shop, stole them again and came to Lexington. Bramlett came here and had the negro arrested.

THE ADVOCATE.

THE SUCCESS OF ADVERTISING.

The Tenth held an awful crowd.
It seemed as if a boom.
Had struck it for an act unit
There wasn't standing room.

The Gazettes were out in force,
The sanghly and the sea.
Until no tickets could be had
At any sort of price.

The crowd outside was almost free
In thickens, more or less
And up against the Temple's walls
There was a dreadful press.

A thousand women faltered there.
Perhaps ten thousand more
Were badly squeezed, and every man
Raised up his voice and swore.

It was a gala time, indeed;
There never had been one
In all the temple history
When greater deeds were done.

For Sampson, the Hercules,
Had been engaged to kneel
All previous records and thereby
The greatest one to make.

These are the facts of history,
And what belief that day
To thousands of those Gazettes
Who happened round that way?

And never has an actor since
Brought down a house as he
Brought down that house upon the heads
Of those who came to see.

These facts are known, but well we know
Is why many went
To see this Samson when they knew
His strength was almost spent.

It is not in a minute why,
If you would like to know
His managers were wise men and
They advertised the show.

The popular subscription to the new bonds has proved a most remarkable success. The bids were opened Wednesday. They were 4,610 in number and were for $558,268,850 worth of bonds—more than five and a half times the times the amount offered. The bids ranged from par up to 150, there being a single $50 bid at the latter figure.

IN ASIA MINOR.

Mrs. J. Pike Powers Writes a Very Interesting Letter Descriptive of Her Travels

To Her Sunday School Class at Knoxville, Tenn.

800 Armenians Were Killed at Thessalonica the Day Before She Landed There.

On board steamship, Sludh, Seaport, Latiki, Asia Minor.

Dear Sunday-school scholars—I arrived here safe and sound after a pleasant voyage of twelve days on the broad Atlantic, and ten days more on this ship, on the Mediterranean sea. I have seen many fine cities and very many old ruins, which have interested me exceedingly. Of all places my visits to Tarsus, where Paul was born, and Ephesus and Corinth, where he preached and to those people he wrote the letters found in the New Testament, and Smyrna and Rome, were the most interesting. We were at Tarsus day before yesterday; leaving our ship in the harbor at Messina, we took a train and after riding 16 miles, were at the house which now stands on the spot where Paul's home once stood. The house is built around an open court, which is at once the yard, the chicken coop, stable and play ground for the family. Dogs met us with hideous howls and barks, while dozens of Turks were lying down on sacks asleep. Hundreds of camels lined the streets without load and unladen, for their desert tramp. Women were looking out from their barred windows, while children with matted hair and dirty faces followed us from place to place. Men with short skirts and flowing robes and turbaned heads were screaming out their wares and produce for sale as they rode little bits of donkeys, which often carried whole stacks of hay to the camp. Oh! how I wish you little folks and big folks too could see what I have seen! You would thank God that you were born in America, where Jesus Christ is King. It makes my heart sick to think that these creatures are going down to darkness and death without a ray of hope beyond! I met some good missionaries on their way to Smyrna who are teaching an orphan school there. They could speak a little English and took quite a fancy to me. They gave me a little keepsake, which I will show you if I do not lose my baggage. They were sent out from a church in Germany. There were also on board that steamer, the Euterpe, four other missionaries on their way to Persia, where they have been laboring for nine or ten years, and have but 3,000 members in the Presbyterian church.

Oh, I have been in so many, many fine churches since I got you; one of them, St. Peter's in Rome, cost $20,000,000 and costs $20,000 a year to keep it up! Gold selling, and pillars and statues and paintings and trimmings which are magnificent and glorious, but alas, right in the midst of all this finery, men, women and children were begging right in the church! Oh such a state of pollution! In Rome I went to our little Baptist chapel, where they were worshipping God in a neat stone house, (all houses on this side are of stone or brick). The preacher could speak a little English. We made ourselves known and sang for them and they sang for us. I'll tell you they were glad to see us, and one old lady hugged and kissed me over and over again, when we were giving them an old fashioned hand-shaking! Now as I write there is a French family of eight people talking at the top of their voices, while out of the porthole or window of the ship, the Turks are clattering and screaming in their little boats, as they are loading their ship with cotton, wheat, spices and wines for the next port. We have been on this ship since last Wednesday a week ago, stopping at a dozen or more places in the seas to take on passengers or freight.

Four days ago we passed the large Isle of Patmos, where John wrote the book of Revelation. What hallowed thoughts I had when I read about the appearance of the Savior to him on that Lord's day that lonely island. There are about 40,000 people there, now, engaged in mining silver. We visited Mar's Hill, where Paul preached to the Athenians, and rode out the Appian way over which he came into Rome; went to the prison where he lay and to the spot where they say he was beheaded. Grand apostle to the Gentiles, and yet the very places in which he planted the gospel are now in utterable darkness, while our country, both and blossoms like the rose under the light of Christian civilization! Strange workings of Divine providence. To-morrow we reach Beyrouth, Syria, where I will mail this letter, and start overland for Damascus and the Holy City. I will try to write you again from Jerusalem. We are now in Asia, where our Lord was born. The Turks all around us are daily killing the Armenians. At Alexandretta yesterday they were having a riot and were marching those poor afflicted people through the streets in chains and casting them into prison.

At Thessalonica 800 were killed the day before we landed there, and we heard that 30,000 were in camp near there, while the smoke of their burning villages could still be seen. Twelve thousand Armenians have already been killed. I noticed that the people here were very much excited and seemed to look at us very strangely, but we did not know what was going on until we got back to the ship. What a burning shame that Christian nations should allow such horrid and inhuman butchery of innocent people. Here was the old script on which Paul preached and the site of the church. A Mohammedan mosque is now there, but formerly a Christian church. It is a miserable dirty town, with no attractions of any kind. Now I must stop. I wish for you and pray for you. Praise God that you were born there and not here; and hope that you and I may appreciate the fact more and more. Remember me to your prayers. Raise money, and thank God for the chance of raising it to keep the church alive in your country, for people are down on the level of the brute creation without the gospel. Farewell. Your loving friend and teacher, MRS. POWERS.

CANVASSING BOARDS.

Their Duties as the Court of Ap peals Construes the New Election Laws.

The Court of Appeals Concerning the Duties of Canvassing Boards.

THE VALIDITY OF BALLOTS, ETC.

As the decision is a most important one, the syllabus is given in full:

First—Although the duties of the County Canvassing Board of Elections are purely ministerial, it is the duty of that board to canvass as a part of the returns the doubtful or questioned ballots returned by the precinct officers, and to count them for the one candidate or the other, or reject them altogether, as may appear to be proper from an inspection of the ballots.

Second—This duty of the canvassing Board is controllable by mandamus, the Court having the power to require a canvass, and to direct for what candidate, if for any, each doubtful or questioned ballot shall be counted.

Third—Ballots marked with a cross made with pencil or ink of any color are to be counted, provided they are in other respects regular, the provision of the statute that all marking upon the ballot shall be made with black ink being directory merely.

Fourth—Ballots marked with a cross at the head of a particular party column, although outside the square containing the party device, are to be counted for the candidates of that party.

Fifth—A ballot having the cross under the Democratic device and also immediately across the top of the square to the right of the name of the candidate in the Republican column should be counted for that candidate.

Sixth—A ballot marked with a solid irregular black figure instead of a cross should be counted, the marking appearing to have been done with a stencil by twisting or turning it in the voter's hand, as the intention of the voter is manifest.

Seventh—A ballot marked with a cross in the square to the right of the name of a Republican Presidential elector at the head of the Republican column, and marked nowhere else, should be counted for that candidate alone, although probably intended for the entire Republican ticket.

Eighth—Ballots marked with two or more crosses in one square, or with a cross of a peculiar form, should be counted if otherwise regular, as these are not such "distinguishing marks" as invalidate the ballot in the absence of evidence of intent to distinguish it.

Ninth—Ink blots and pencil marks upon a ballot which appear to have been accidental do not render the ballot invalid.

The School Book Monopoly.

The Legislature has an opportunity to do a grand thing for the State and make a record to which in after years they may point with pride. We refer to the need for an act which will break up the monopoly which the school book trust is now using to rob the people of the State of Kentucky. A book which does not cost over 15 cents to manufacture is sold at $1.12, and others in and about the same proportion. It is an outrage which should be speedily put an end to. When you count up the number of children in the State and the number of high-priced books required on the average, some idea of the magnitude of the steal may be formed. No wonder times are hard when a monopoly like this is allowed to thus fasten itself upon the people and suck out its financial life-blood under the forms of law. Down with all monopolies, and in particular this one, which lays a tax upon the education of our children.—(Ex.)

Carlisle Against Carlisle.

In his official report of Dec. 3, 1894, Secretary Carlisle, alluding to his November loan and pleading for the privilege of issuing 3 per cent. "gold" bonds, said:

This transaction justifies to opinion that a 2 1/2 per cent. bond, having a reasonable time to run, could probably have been sold at par, and certainly at a 3 per cent. bond could have been disposed of at or above that rate. The fact that a bond bears so high a rate of interest and has so large a time to run that it must be sold at a large premium detracts considerably from its investment and speculative value in the hands of the comparatively few who are willing to take the risk of future fluctuations in its price. The consequence is that the purchases are made almost exclusively by large moneyed institutions and capitalists who are familiar with such securities, and the people generally are precluded from investing their savings in the only form which is known to be perfectly good and always convertible into money."

These are perfectly true statements of important truths. But why has not Mr. Carlisle chosen to issue a 2 1/2 or 3 per cent. "gold" bond could have been sold on the 3d of December, 1894, at or above par, why did Mr. Carlisle induce the President on the 29th of that month to create senseless suspicion by his special message asking for "gold" bonds instead? And when this year there was a good prospect in Congress of passing a bill authorizing precisely the 3 per cent. for which Mr. Carlisle had asked, why did he set his face against its passage on this "gold" for "gold" quibble, and thus make it certain that his future bond issues, like those that had gone before, should be taken "almost exclusively by large moneyed institutions and capitalists" to the exclusion of the people?

13 per cents were salable in December, 1894, "at or above" par, why did Mr. Carlisle in the following February secretly sell four per cent to a syndicate at 104?

Is it a matter of public policy to let the people "invest their savings" in the bonds, why has Mr. Carlisle obstinately refused to give the people that opportunity by fixing a price and taking open subscriptions? Why has he trained and persistently kept this latter call in shape that the purchases must be "made almost exclusively by large moneyed institutions and capitalists?"

What influence was it that took possession of Mr. Carlisle's mind so soon after he wrote the words quoted above, and has dominated it ever since?—(N. Y. World.)

Weissinger, Violet, Carroll, Walker, Speight.

These Democrats in the Legislature are still steadfast to the party faith, and refuse to be seduced or driven into abandonment of it on the feeble pretext that the friends of any man have authority to hold a caucus and override the action of the State Convention of the Democracy.

There now! Only five good Democrats left in the Legislature! The Democratic party in Kentucky is in a bad way, isn't it? Reduced to five members of the Legislature and the Courier-Journal.

The Courier-Journal is getting so inoperative in its advocacy of a good cause that it lays itself open to the charge of being "money mad." The C.-J. is hurting, instead of helping, the cause it would uphold. The fact that some good men have gone off after the worship of silver is no reason their Democracy should be questioned by the Democrat who happens to worship at the golden shrine. The basic principles of our party are not involved in this quarrel. The matter dividing the party in Kentucky to-day is simply a question of expediency. If Mr. Bronston happens to believe that the passage of a law permitting the free coinage of silver would be for the best interest of the country, he may still do so and yet be as good a Democrat as Mr. Weissinger, who fears such a measure would utterly wreck our finances. Both are equally honest in their opinions probably.

We are ready to agree with the Courier-Journal in thinking that the free silverites are mistaken in their policy, but we are not ready to call them dishonest. More, we are compelled to admit, however reluctantly we may be willing to do it, that they have been quite as temperate in their abuse of our wing of the party as we have been in deriding theirs. We are unqualifiedly for the gold standard, because in the face of the position other great nations are occupying toward silver, we cannot see how its free admission to our mints could result other than disastrously to us. But we cannot see that this gives us a right to uphold the men who are to-day preventing the return of a Democrat to the U. S. Senate who has been duly nominated by his party in a regular call and organized caucus. If we could have had our choice it would have been a "sound money" Democrat who received the caucus nomination, but since that was not to be we greatly prefer even a "free silver" Democrat, to a "sound money" Republican.

Mr. M. B. McKinley is handling strictly first class beavers, they are hard to get but he prefers looking around and selecting the best corn fed. Also he sells groceries at a very close margin and gives his trade only what they are entitled to, the highest grade. His cured meats are all his own makes and are very fine.

The Senatorial Situation.

The situation on the Senatorial question now occupying the attention of the Kentucky Legislature is unchanged. On Saturday, the sixteenth ballot was taken, resulting in Hunter receiving 56 votes, Blackburn 52, scattering 6. There is small prospect of an early settlement of the matter.

Tammany with all its misdeeds required but $33,000,000 to govern the city of New York in 1894, the last year of its administration, while Mayor Strong and the Reform administration have appropriated $13,000,000 for the various city departments during 1896, says an exchange. To the burdened taxpayers of New York this increase assessed in the name of reform and the Republican party must read something like the figures in a nightmare.

The friends of Judge H. R. French, of this city, are desirous of him becoming a candidate for delegate from this district to the National Democratic Convention. There is no better man in the district than Judge French, nor one who would more creditably represent the interests of his party in the Chicago Convention. The Democracy of this district would honor itself not less than the Judge himself by naming him for delegate.

The Hon. William McKinley's friends in this State don't take much stock in Governor Bradley's boom for President. In fact, they no doubt ridicule it when they get off all by themselves; and they intend that Kentucky's vote in the St. Louis convention shall be recorded for their favorite.

Jewett's Horses to Be Sold.

East Aurora, N. Y., Feb. 8.—J. Jewett's entire stable of 112 horses was shipped from the Jewett stock farm today to New York, where it is to be sold next week. This practically ends Mr. Jewett's career as a breeder of trotting horses, which pursuit he has followed for many years, with disappointing results, financially. Among the animals to be auctioned off are Patchen Wilkes, the sire of the famous Joe Patchen, Turco (2:12) and Favors (2:12).

Joseph H. Hawkins and William Sparks, prominent Bourbon County farmers of near Centerville, made an individual assignment late Saturday evening to J. M. and J. G. Ward. Was Marshal Ney Executed?

A reader of the Courier-Journal has asked its opinion regarding a detailed narrative in a Western paper, with reference to Michel Ney, Marshal of France and Duke of Elchingen. The story is a long one, but the gist of it is that Marshal Ney was actually executed in the Luxembourg gardens in 1815, that the execution was a sham, and that he was spirited away and came to America. It is an undisputed fact that there was a school teacher in North Carolina for a series of years who called himself Peter Stuart Ney. The theory is that he and Marshal Michel Ney were one and the same person.

This theory is not now advanced for the first time. It is one of those theories that find expression in the press now and again, as the memory of former publications becomes, or is supposed by some editor to have become, faint in the public mind. Formerly the question "Have we a Bourbon among us?" would bob up in the newspapers from time to time. The assumption behind this question was that the Rev. Eleazar Williams, a missionary of the Protestant Episcopal church to the Indians, was no other than Louis XVII, who was the son of Louis XVI, and Marie Antoinette, of France, and who was born in 1765, and was supposed to have perished in the temple. Williams himself professed to believe this story, and some think he was sincere. It first became public in Putnam's Magazine in 1853, in an article written by Rev. John H. Hanson, D. D., and thousands, perhaps, have gone to their graves believing it true.

Similarly, the story that Wilkes Booth was still alive used to crop out from time to time, and various facts and fictions were cited to back it up. Doubtless there are still those who think that Booth is alive. There were thousands such twenty years ago. There is a class of minds that take peculiar pleasure in trying to support these improbable stories. Among them still is barely possible that one or two may be true, but the preponderance of the evidence is against them.

In the case of Ney it is impossible to deny that there is some tendency to show that Peter Stuart Ney, of North Carolina, was Marshal Ney. We do not mean legal evidence, in a form that could be offered in court, but statements published in newspapers purporting to come from persons who had knowledge of the facts which they state. The Rev. J. J. Gay, of Berler, Mo., an Episcopal clergyman, who was a pupil of P. S. Ney, in 1823, is firmly convinced that his old teacher was Marshal Ney. He tells how, on his last visit to North Carolina in 1846, P. S. Ney rose on his elbow and said: "I may as well tell you I am Marshal Ney, of France." But Mr. Gay does not say he was present when this was said, and it is highly improbable that he was.

The fact seems to be that Peter Ney, of North Carolina, bore a striking resemblance to the pictures of Marshal, at least in the opinion of some of his acquaintances, and that when under the influence of liquor he was in the habit of giving out hints that he was Marshal Ney. He also held that Ney was of Scotch ancestry, and descended from the Stuarts, doubtless with the intent to make the impression that he was of royal blood. These and other circumstances too tedious to detail have created the impression in some minds that the North Carolina schoolmaster was Marshal Ney.

The improbability of this story is very great. The death of Ney in the Luxembourg gardens December 7, 1815, is generally accepted by historians, and had the execution been a sham evidence of it would long since have been forthcoming, since many persons would have been cognizant of the facts. That the guns of the squad were loaded with ball is known from the fact that some of the bullets lodged in the fence behind the spot where Ney stood. That the himself told the soldiers to aim at his heart and gave the order to fire is told by Lamartine. The body lay on the ground for a quarter of an hour, and was viewed by a number of persons, including some women of the neighborhood, who "mingled their tears with his blood." The persons cognizant of the facts could not have admitted that the execution was a sham shortly after the event, but many of them must have lived until it was quite safe to do so. Peter Ney exhibited papers which he said would astonish the world when made public, but although they were given out for translation after his death they were never published, pretty strong evidence that they contained nothing of value. For these reasons we are inclined to discredit the story vaguely hinted by the bibulous schoolmaster of North Carolina. The historians are probably right in saying that Marshal Ney was executed in 1815.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 5088 hhds, with receipts for the same period 5419 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1, amount 22,517 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1895 on our market to this date amount to 23,907 hhds.

We have had immense receipts and sales on our market again this week as indicated by the above figures. The market during the first three days of week was decidedly active, with prices a shade better than heretofore, but during the latter part of the week, the market was irregular and prices slightly weaker on some grades. The offerings of the week showed a very small percent of really blue tobacco and no very high prices were realized.

Many sales of the medium to good grades of leaf were made at occasional ranging from $10 to $15 with occasional hhds. selling from $16 to $18 per hundred. The very common grades lacking in color and in soft condition, were decidedly lower.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco 1895 crop.

Trash. (Dark or damaged tobacco) $7.75 to $15.00.
Common good colory trash, $2.00 to $4.00.
Medium to good colory trash, $4.00 to $6.00.
Common lugs, not colory, $2.00 to $4.00.

Common colory lugs, $4.50 to $7.00.
Medium to good colory lugs, $7.00 to $10.00.
Common to medium leaf $5.00 to $8.00.
Medium to good leaf, $8.00 to $15.00.
Good to fine leaf, $15 to $18.

Choice leaf, $18 to $22.00.
The above quotations are not applicable to green and frosted crops.

GLOVES & DURETT.

The late James G. Blain never spoke to his friends about the famous tattoo cartoon of himself, which was the work of the late cartoonist, Bernard Gilliam, of Judge, issued in the Presidential campaign of 1884, without resorting to the bitterest language.

In the case of Blain we are told that nothing has so stirred President Cleveland in the cartoon line for several years as the one issued during the Hawaiian controversy. It depicted a great big fat, middle-aged woman seated in Mr. Cleveland's lap, and underneath was the legend: "Queen Lili is pretty close to Grover." The President, his friends say, was incensed at that cartoon as much as Mr. Blain was over the tattoo affair.

Mrs. Susan King, of Petersburg, Ind., was recently awarded $2,000 damages against John A. Smiser, a saloon-keeper. It was alleged that Smiser sold the plaintiff's husband so much intoxicants one day that he lost his balance and fell to the floor in the defendant's place of business, striking his head against the base-board and receiving fatal injuries.

Electrical Units.

The ohm is the unit of resistance, and may be compared to the resistance of a pipe to the water flowing in it.

The volt is the unit of intensity. It may be compared with the amount of pressure of a steam engine, or the pressure of a column of water flowing in a vertical pipe.

One must not fall into the error of considering electricity a fluid, because of these comparisons. The units may be very easily explained by the analogy of a current of fluid, but the analogy theory that electricity is an "imponderable fluid" is now considered untenable.

The coulomb is the measure of quantity of flow; that is, current flowing at the rate of one ampere second. The quantity is so small that in practical battery, electric light and motor work, the ampere hour is taken as the measure of quantity.

The watt is the mechanical unit of work. The number of watts may be obtained by multiplying the number expressing the volts, or the electromotive force, by the number expressing the amperage of the current. A force of 746 watts equals one horse power.

The ampere is the measure of rate of flow of current, and is that quantity which would pass through a circuit having one ohm resistance, when urged by a pressure of one volt. It does not include the idea of time or real pressure of one volt. Thus we might have an ampere flowing through a circuit as the result of either the smallest fraction of a volt or of 1,000,000 volts depending upon the resistance of the circuit. The quantity flowing, however, would be exactly the same as that resulting from one volt through one ohm.

The farad is the measure of capacity. The capacity of a surface which can hold one coulomb of electricity at a voltage of pressure of one volt is a farad. It may be compared with the capacity of a container filled with gas. Under a certain pressure it will hold a certain amount of gas. Double the amount of gas, etc. Similarly a surface which would one coulomb at a pressure of one volt would hold two coulombs at a pressure of two volts, etc.—(Philadelphia Bulletin.)

Buy Wheat.

Last week May wheat sold on the Board of Trade as high as 68¢. Several times it sold at 68¢. It closed last night around 66¢. There is more reason why it should sell at 66¢ this week than last. In fact we expect it to touch 70¢ before Saturday night. 100,000 on margin will cost $100. If bought at 66¢ and sold at 70¢ it will make you a clear profit of $400 or $100 for each cent advance, less commission.

Famous Cow Boy Pianist, Col. A. O. Babel, Dies Suddenly.

Our people remember with pleasure the world's celebrated musical phenomenon who entertained here a few months ago, and will be sad to hear of his death.

Mr. Babel was 39 years old, and was a native of Guadalupe county, Texas, where he was a cowboy until about twelve years ago. When a boy he was a whistler and never heard a tune that he could not reproduce. He was twenty years old before he ever saw a piano. At this age he was thrown from his horse, and after this time he had the run of the ranch where he was engaged, and finding an old piano at the home of one of the ranchers found that he could play any tune with one hand equally as well as he could whistle it, and when his arm had healed his full talent was developed to his great astonishment. In 1886 he was induced to give his ranch life and go East and locate in Randolph, N. Y., where he soon became famous, and had given piano entertainments in the principal cities of the United States and Canada, and was well known in concert halls of Europe and Australia. He was indeed a world-wonder among musicians; never took a music lesson or knew a note, and yet could get from a piano more music than the most cultured musician.

The Commercial Hotel, proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, received a letter from Mrs. Babel, Monday, announcing the death of her husband. Mr. Babel and wife were at the Commercial when here and because of the attention received at the hotel and courtesies shown them by our people, she did not forget kindnesses when troubles came.

C. E. NOTES.

In Fort Wayne, Ind., the societies of Christian Endeavor, the Epworth League and the Baptist Union have formed a Young People's Christian Union. This is a movement that might well be followed by the societies of Mt. Sterling.

We would be glad to see it tried.

The society of the First Presbyterian Church, held its monthly business meeting at the parsonage last Friday night. These meetings are growing in interest. After the regular business they spend the time in discussing the life of some reformer or some literary character. At the last meeting a new feature was introduced in the form of a "Text Test," taken from "The Ladies' Home Journal." When the questions had been answered they were given an opportunity to test the tea and teasakes, which were served in the dining-room.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by druggists, 75c. 25-4t

On last Saturday night dogs made a raid upon D. G. Howell's sheep, killing and crippling the entire flock of 24 head. The public school census of Lexington for this year will show Lexington two hundred less than the census of 1895. In this case the city received the per capita, $2.85, from the State to go into the public school fund.

At Ono, twenty miles east of Prescott, Cal., the Gold Note and Philadelphia properties will soon start their 20-stamp mill to work a five-foot vein of ribbon rock.

There have been altogether 198 applicants made to the California Debris Commission for permission to mine by hydraulic process, and of these 141 have been granted.

Health and strength carry us through dangers and make us safe in the presence of peril. Disease germs do not harm in a healthy body. A germ is not a big thing, and it is only physical weakness that makes it dangerous. A perfectly strong man with rich, pure blood, has nothing to fear from germs. He may breathe in the bacilli of consumption with impunity. Nature is continually working to throw off any impurities that may come into the body, but if there is a weak spot where the germ may find an entrance to the tissues, then the trouble begins. Disease germs propagate with lightning-like rapidity. Once in the blood, they quickly fill the whole body. The only way to get rid of them is to kill them. This is what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is for. It purifies the blood, means that it kills the germs, but that is only part of what it does. It assists in the digestion of food and puts the digestive organs in a perfect condition. It stimulates the secretion of digestive fluids, so promoting assimilation and nutrition. It fills the blood full of healthy red corpuscles. It purifies and carries every drop of blood in the whole body and so supplies the tissue with the food they need. It builds up strong, healthy flesh and puts the whole body into a disease-resisting state.

Nine-tenths of all human ailments come from the same cause—impurity in the blood. Take almost any disease you please and trace the cause of it—you will find it in the blood. Purify and enrich the blood, and you remove the cause, and so you cure the disease inevitably and infallibly. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all diseases depending upon poor, impurified, thin, impure blood.

With the opening up of the North Fork country, the probable working of the Green Mountain and the resumption of several old mines through permits of the Debris Commission, together with those awaiting the water season, a prosperous year is expected among Plumas county mines.

Considerable gold mining excitement is reported to prevail about Hightide, N. C. Several rich veins have been found recently. One vein near Horse Cove is three feet wide and appears to be quite extensive. The gold shows very plentiful in the rock. This is an important find, as hitherto all the gold mining in the district has been placer mining.

A rich discovery is reported as being recently made in the Birch Hills, about twenty-five miles from Prince Albert. It is said that the deposits are very rich in gold and that the hills should be wealthy. Prince Albert is the territory of Saskatchewan, on the North Saskatchewan river, about 175 miles North from Regina, on the Canadian Pacific. It is the terminus of the proposed Manitoba and Northwest Railway.

About three months ago a vein of galena was discovered near Springfield, W. Va., which was said to be rich in silver and lead, with traces of gold. Another vein has since been uncovered near Stanville, which is said to give an assay of remarkable richness. Lack of capital has hitherto prevented development, but this will be corrected as soon as capitalists realize the possibilities of Hampshire County as a mining district.

Germany and Silver.

In the German Reichstag Saturday the Imperial Chancellor made a declaration of policy on the silver question, in which he said that a monetary conference would not bring it nearer to a practical solution, that it appeared to be undesirable that Germany should take the lead in announcing such a conference and it has been decided to take no further steps in the matter. It, however, another country should make proposals he would consider the question of German representation.

The Personal Side of Washington.

General A. W. Greely, of Arctic fame, begins in the March Ladies Home Journal, his articles on George Washington, which are expected to create considerable discussion. General Greely has read over 2,000 of Washington's private letters, and he writes in a frank, unbiased way of the personal side of Washington. His first article will deal with the loves and courtships of Washington and his final marriage to the widow Custis. General Greely's articles are not likely to confirm the estimate of those who regard Washington as an ideal man. But they are truthful and admirably portray the man as he was in reality.

MARKET LETTER.

February 10, 1896.—Since our last letter the Advocates we have had active markets and the interest exhibited by outsiders appears to be on increase. Commission Brokers generally report last week better than for some time past. The pronounced success of President Cleveland's popular loan has inspired the business world with confidence, and has clearly shown that this country can borrow all the money it requires at home.

R. G. Dunn & Co.'s report for the past week shows increased trade by jobbers and manufacturers. Breadstuffs reports larger bar earnings and healthier feeling in commercial circles. Solid business men noting the improvement along the line are investing in grain and other securities.

WHEAT—A better market than this cereal has furnished lately could not well be imagined. Nearly every day has seen the market fluctuate from one to two cents, up or down, with an upward tendency predominant.

Although every good advance has met with some slight decline the market holds its own remarkably well and is slowly but surely reaching the averages. Very bullish news is afloat. Seaboard clearances for last week were 2,900,000 bu. against 2,500,000 bu. the week before. Estimated world's receipts for the week 6,000,000 bu., being an increase of 4,000,000 bu. from our country. Perhaps the strongest bull news is Bradstreet's report of a decrease of 4,500,000 bu. in the world's visible supply. It is estimated that the importing countries will require 408,000,000 bu. while the exporting countries have only 339,000,000 bu. to sell. Taking this into consideration one can readily understand the advance in prices, the only surprise is that wheat is so low. The situation can not long remain as it now is and an investment to-day, after the drop of yesterday, or, in fact, any place about the present price, can not fail to insure speedy profits.

Closed yesterday, May wheat, 66 1/2.

CORN AND OATS have been entirely featureless of late being governed in little advance or decline they made by the wheat market.

While both are cheap enough at present figures we see nothing to cause any immediate advance in them. Owing to bad roads receipts of corn have been light but even this does not advance the price in the face of the visible supply. Closed yesterday May corn 30 1/2, May oats 21 1/2.

PROVISIONS have been unsteady during the week and the market has had several sharp declines owing to the poor cash demand for meats. Receipts have been light however and as the prices are now considerably lower we look for a sharp advance within the next few days. The selling has been chiefly by packers. Outsiders have been good buyers. Closed yesterday, May pork $10.25, May lard $5.65.

The Proper Time

When the most benefit is to be derived from a good medicine, is early in the year. This is the season when the tired body, weakened organs and nervous system yearn for a building-up medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Many wait for the open spring weather and, in fact, delay giving attention to their physical condition so long that a long siege of sickness is inevitable. To rid the system of the impurities accumulated during the winter season, to purify the blood and to invigorate the whole system, there is nothing equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. Don't put it off, but take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will do you good. Read the testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla, all from reliable, grateful people. They tell the story.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church closed on last Wednesday evening with sixteen additions to the church and Rev. B. B. Bailey returned to his home in Winchester on the following day. He will be remembered here by all denominations as a strong, earnest and eloquent exponent of the gospel and the mere announcement that he would again preach here would insure a large audience.

HORSE AND TRACK.

Courier, 2:15, by Centennial, will be campaigned in 1896 by Gus Macey.

A full brother to Oro Wilkes is considered the fastest yearling at San Mateo.

John H. Gibson, of Madison county, this State, has recently sold a fine road mare to a Mr. Wheel, of New York, for $600.

Pilets 2:14, Great Heart 2:12, and Latitude 2:14, are being wintered at Coldwater, Mich.

Simmons 2:28 comes 16 Ohio, having been bought at the Woodard & Shanklin sale at Lexington, on Tuesday, by Geo. McKaig, of Troy, Ohio, for $3,300.—Sportsman.

The Kentucky Futurity for foals of 1896 will be $10,000, of which $6,000 is set aside for the two-year-old division, $1,000 of which will go to foal that pace. The remaining $10,000 will go to the three-year-olds that trot.

Mrs. L. D. Hammond, of Los Angeles, Cal., has bought the stallion Sky Pointer, brother to Star Pointer 2:04, from Mrs. Pointer, of Columbia, Tenn. The sale was made through Ed Geer.

Several European buyers are trying to buy the celebrated stallion Regal Wilkes 2:11 1/2. It is to be hoped that he will remain in this country, as his colts are very fast.

Palo Alto Farm will take a few of its mare outside of Menlo Park to breed this spring, having booked a sister to Advertiser 2:15, a mare by Ansel 2:20, out of the dam of Utility 2:13, and Coral 3:18, sister to Antonio, Antevio and Antero, to Boodie 2:12 1/2 by Stranger.

It is said that John Spaul wants to get John R. Geury, and thinks he would be able to make the two-minute horse out of him. He has already passed to the three-quarter mile in 1:30 and Spaul thinks he could be "stepped up" to go the full mile at that clip.

John E. Madden has sold to George H. Ketchum, of Toledo, O., the two-year-old bay filly, breeding by Jay Bird, dam Kate Brooks (dam of Latitude 2:13, and Little May, 2:30) by Abdalbrino. The price is private, but a good one. Blessing is the filly that, as the property of J. H. Thayer last October in the Ashland Stake of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' meeting, drove out the May King filly Nebraska in 2:12 1/2. She gives every promise of being a great two-year-old.

Messrs R. P. Fox & Son, of Richmond, are to be congratulated upon securing the great young stallion Monbars 2:11 1/2. They bought him at the Woodard & Shanklin sale last Monday, paying $1,500 for him. Messrs. Fox & Son were offered an advance on the purchase price for him by several different parties, but refused to part with him. Mr. R. P. Fox was at his home confided to his bed, but his son purchased the horse.

The Russian government is said to be looking for a first-class trotting sire to place in the imperial stud, and with a view of securing one the director has given a representative in this country orders to closely examine Patchen Wilkes 2:20; Simmons, 2:28; Guy Wilkes, 2:15; Baron Wilkes, 2:18; Jay Bird and Young Jim. This representative is also instructed to find out the cost of each of these horses delivered to the royal stud in St. Petersburg.

At the sale of trotters at Lexington last week, horses sold low. When you can buy a well bred young mare for less than $100, farmers can afford to buy them for work horses. Then when prices get better every farmer has some good ones to sell. We know of two standard bred mares that failed ten bids, of corn each had laid to our town and they also failed sale. Every farmer in Kentucky should have well bred mares to work on the farm, when they can be bought at the present prices.
